Letter from the CEO

Dear Fellow Essex Solutions Employees:

As we strive to remain a leader in our competitive industry, one of our top priorities as an organization must be to preserve a culture where every employee is equipped and empowered always to do the right thing for our customers, employees and shareholders.

The Essex Solutions Code of Ethics is designed to provide all employees with guidance on how to make tough business decisions with the highest regard for integrity and legal and ethical standards. Together with other company policies, the Code of Ethics outlines the behaviors that best define who we are and aspire to be as an organization. The Code of Ethics serves to capture and shape our vision for the way we conduct ourselves as representatives of Essex Solutions. Therefore, we must comply with not only the letter of the Code of Ethics, but also the intent and spirit that inform it.

As a team that shares the same vision and core values, I have no doubt that we will achieve great success together. Thank you for your continued support in shaping the future of our company.

Code of Ethics

Essex Solutions is committed to conducting its business in accordance with the highest standards of integrity and excellence and in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. We can achieve this goal only with the full commitment of our entire workforce — all our employees, officers and directors worldwide. It is the responsibility of each of us to comply with both the spirit and the letter of all applicable governmental rules and regulations and with this Code of Ethics.

This Code of Ethics highlights principles reflecting the Company's standards for ethical and legal business practices. More detailed guidance can be found in Company policies and procedures. In North America, such policies include the Company's Standards of Business Conduct and Employee Handbook. You may find Company policies and procedures applicable to you by contacting your HR representative or on the Company's Corporate Intranet.

The Code of Ethics and other policies apply to all officers, directors and employees of Essex Solutions, its subsidiaries and affiliated companies.

OUR COMMITMENT TO THE MARKETPLACE

The Company is committed to competing both lawfully and ethically in the marketplace. We are honest and fair in all our business dealings with customers, suppliers and business vendors.

In honoring this commitment:

- > We never use unlawful or unethical means to learn about our competitors, and we gather business intelligence in a proper and lawful manner.
- > We market and sell our products with honesty and integrity, and in compliance with all applicable laws.
- > We compete in compliance with all applicable antitrust and competition laws.

OUR COMMITMENT TO INTEGRITY

Without its good reputation, the Company cannot succeed. Each of us must act to preserve and enhance the Company's reputation. To accomplish this, each of us must act with integrity in everything we do.

In honoring this commitment:

- > We avoid actual or potential conflicts of interest. A conflict of interest can arise when we take actions or have interests that conflict with or make it difficult to perform our duties for the Company objectively and effectively.
 - We are aware that conflicts of interest may involve:
 - having a financial interest in a competitor;
 - having a financial interest in a company that does business with or contracts with the company;

- taking advantage of corporate opportunities we learn about as a result of our position;
- entering into loans with an organization that does business with the company; or
- hiring close relatives.

- We are aware that the activities and financial interests of our spouse, significant other, children, parents or in-laws may give rise to potential conflicts of interest or the appearance of a conflict of interest.

We are aware that “government officials” can include government employees, political party members and candidates for political office and employees of state-owned enterprises.
- > We never trade on or improperly disclose “inside” information, which is nonpublic information that would be important to a person in deciding whether to buy or sell Company stock.
- > We do not allow personal political activities on Company time or the use of Company resources in connection with such activities, unless such activities are specifically protected by applicable laws.

OUR COMMITMENT TO PROTECT COMPANY ASSETS

WHO DO I CONTACT IF I HAVE QUESTIONS OR CONCERNS ABOUT THE CODE OF ETHICS?

Most issues regarding the Code of Ethics and how it applies to a particular situation can be resolved locally before they become problems for the Company, employees or the public. The Company encourages employees to present ideas, raise concerns or ask questions about this Code of Ethics—especially those of a legal or ethical nature. All managers are responsible for supporting and enforcing this policy by maintaining an “open door” for their direct reports and those who may reach out to them.

While we hope that employees feel comfortable discussing any matter with their supervisors, there may be times when a supervisor cannot help. There are a variety of resources available to help.

You can contact any one of the following:

- > The next higher level of supervisor
- > The head of your business unit
- > Any member of the Legal Department
- > Local or corporate Human Resources
- > The Chief Compliance Officer

While your questions and concerns can often be resolved at the local level, the Chief Compliance Officer provides another way to address issues that cannot be resolved there and, in general, provides a way to report a concern or get information or advice regarding the Code of Ethics. You may contact the Chief Compliance Officer by email at compliance@spsx.com or by telephone at +1 (770) 657-6000.

ANONYMOUS REPORTING SYSTEM

While you should be able to resolve your compliance issues through the resources provided in the Code of Ethics, there may be an occasion where you want to raise an issue or concern anonymously. For this reason, the Company has established the Anonymous Reporting System. All messages submitted through this system are anonymous (unless you reveal your name) and are reviewed by the Company's Chief Compliance Officer or someone on his or her staff acting under the Chief Compliance

Officer's supervision. The Company investigates and handles all messages appropriately. In responding to your concern or comment, you may be asked to provide additional information regarding your message with total anonymity. The system will generate a 15-digit code for each complaint or comment, and you can use that code to track the status of your message and interact confidentially with the Chief Compliance Officer or others using the system.

Remember, you are required to report any known violations of applicable law, rule, regulation or company policy, including any violations of the Code of Ethics. When in doubt, raise your concerns.

WHEN SHOULD I RAISE CONCERNS OR QUESTIONS?

Ideally, you should raise concerns or questions about the Code of Ethics before actual problems arise. You should speak up if you believe that you or your co-workers risk violating laws, regulations, or company policies, or if you find yourself uncomfortable with a situation. When in doubt, raise your concerns.

All employees will be treated with dignity and respect and will not be subject to retaliation, threats or harassment for raising concerns or questions.
